

MAGAZINE FULFILMENT MADE SIMPLE

Why Newsstand?

Newsstand have been delivering print since 1898 and we've picked up plenty of tips and tricks along the way! We disrupted the market with single online magazine sales, and we continued to innovate - winning the PPA Industry Partner of the Year award for our work helping Independent Publishers. Our priority has always been to provide a friendly and efficient service and our passion for print is stronger than ever.

We can list your magazine on our website, where it will sit alongside the likes of Rolling Stone, Vogue and our many amazing indie titles.

You'll benefit from our bazillions of visitors each year. A great way to raise awareness of your magazine and snap up some impulse buys.

Our fulfilment services are competitive, easy to use, and get your magazine where it needs to be - in your customers hands. For decades, we have shipped millions of magazines, for hundreds of publishers, to every country worldwide and are immensely proud of what we can offer our independent publishers.

What publishers say about us

“Newsstand are reliable, cost-effective and efficient. Not only do they provide an excellent dispatch service, but their customer service is second to none – even at very high volumes they are always helpful, quick to find solutions and friendly. It is truly a pleasure to deal with Newsstand, who have completely transformed and streamlined the way we publish, distribute and handle magazine subscriptions”

To say Newsstand are great is an understatement: they are simply the best subscription and fulfilment partner we have ever had. Their service is impeccable and their customer service second to none. Their excellent support means we can focus on the business of making magazines rather than shipping them!

Newsstand has been handling all of Stack's mailing since March 2015 and they offer a really fantastic service. Stack is a small business that's passionate about magazines, and it makes a huge difference to be working with a partner that shares the same values. The team are attentive and quick to respond with solutions that fit our needs as we continue to grow together.
